IN 1999, best mates Johnny, Ben and Chong were stranded in the desert in the middle of nowhere.

Johnny had a phone but there was no phone service out in the desert.

Johnny, Ben and Chong were looking for water desperately.

Two days later, on Friday night Johnny, Ben and Chong were dying of thirst and hunger.

They saw a mirage. They thought they were saved and they could eat chocolate ice cream.

They saw another mirage of Cowboy Tory and his horse, Gilbert.

But they were just seeing things.
In reality, they were stuck in a desert with no food or water.

The next morning Johnny, Ben and Chong saw a Pegasus dragon who picked them up and took them all home.
